The Interdependence Journey Endures

WE MOVE TOWARDS OUR DREAMS UNTIL BE BELIEVE
THEM TO BE IMPOSSIBLE.

As humans, have we stopped dreaming?

The Interdependence journey endures.

WHAT'S YOUR DREAM?

Today, in the middle of this crisis:

Do we take care of the social, environmental and spiritual needs of people and communities?

Can we process and hold what we feel in order to create bonds and possibilities with other people?

Does the weariness of maintaining the actual system prevail?

If these questions make sense or if they bring forth concern in you, at the least, an idea that can transform our presence in the world is present, waiting, to create a new future that wants to emerge into reality...

...A dream for the World...
